

Local information point: Used to broadcast curated local information, maps points of interest and community assets. Interactive panels guide the visitor. Typically located outside public transport stations, or along major vistas of pedestrian movement, particularly at intersections.

